¹ Secondary uses are all the uses which have to be authorized specially and beforehand by Copiepresse, License2Publish or Reppress, rights management societies respectively formed by the publishers of Belgian French- and German-speaking daily newspapers, the publishers of Belgian Dutch-speaking daily newspapers and the publishers of Belgian magazines and free press titles. This includes among other: the implementation of an electronic press review, the electronic reproduction or the scanning of press content in order to constitute a database or to communicate them on the Internet, Intranet or Extranet, the use in documents distributed outside the company, the reproduction in a newsletter, etc.

The reading of press content and their reproduction strictly privately or internally in a company, for its staff and agents, while paying the reprographic rights to Reprobel don't fall within the scope of the secondary rights to be declared to Copiepresse and/or License2Publish and/or Reppress.

² The repertoires are available on Copiepresse website (www.copiepresse.be), License2Publish website (www.license2publish.be) and Reppress website (www.reppress.be)

³ The tariffs are available on Copiepresse website (www.copiepresse.be), License2Publish website (www.license2publish.be) and Reppress website (www.reppress.be)
